Hoodlums Face Quiz In Detroit

Underworld Elite Up For Crime Inquiry

By GLENN ENGLE
DETROIT — (AP)—The elite of Detroit's underworld start their parade to the witness stand today (EST) in the opening Detroit session of Senate crime investigating committee hearings.

Under the spotlight of national press, radio and television attention, the committee will attempt to rip away the veil that sometimes hides a link between racketeers and legitimate businesses.

In two or three crowded days and nights of hearings here the committee will concentrate on learning how the activities of Detroit hoodlums — some big-time, some small-fry — fit into the national picture.

Some 45 witnesses have been subpoenaed. Some of them have police records as long as your arm, but not all of them.

Today's first witnesses, for example, were Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo and Detroit Police Commissioner George F. Boos.

Also scheduled for an early call was Harry Bennett, one-time "right hand man" of the late Henry Ford as personnel director of the Ford Motor Co.

John L. Burling, leading the Detroit phase of the investigation, told reporters he wanted to know "why persons known to be hoodlums got valuable contracts and concessions from Ford during Bennett's regime."

Czech Red Official Hides In Yugoslavia

VIENNA, Austria — (AP) — The newspaper Neue Wiener Tageszeitung reported today that Czechoslovakia's former Communist foreign minister Vlado Clementis arrived last night in Yugoslavia and asked for asylum.

The paper, in a dispatch from its Belgrade correspondent, gave no information as to how Clementis escaped from Czechoslovakia.

The former Red official has been reported missing from Prague since last Saturday.

Earlier this week Tageszeitung said Czechoslovakia's Communist President Klement Gottwald had been placed under close police surveillance for warning Clementis of the latter's impending arrest.

Reports from Prague, however, said there was no evidence of any unusual around Gottwald's residence.

Fast Train Derailed

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The diesel locomotive and ten cars of the Missouri Pacific's Sunshine Special were derailed about 10 a. m. (EST) today at Glen Park, 24 miles south of here. All of the cars remained upright and the railroad said only one person was reported injured.

Jury Convicts Remington On Perjury Charge

Former U. S. Employee Faces Prison Term

NEW YORK—(AP)—William W. Remington, convicted of perjury and branded with Communism by a federal court jury, will be sentenced today.

He faces a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison and $2,000 fine.

The 33-year-old former government economist last night heard a jury of seven women and five men pronounce him guilty of lying to a federal grand jury last summer when he denied ever being a member of the Communist party.

The jury decision climaxed a 32-day trial during which the blond, handsome defendant was accused of transmitting government secrets to Elizabeth Bentley, self-described former Communist courier.

Judge Gregory F. Noonan gave the case to the jury after a 30-minute charge.

U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol, who prosecuted the case for the government, thanked the jury after the verdict and then asked that Remington be jailed to await sentence.

The defense objected, but Judge Noonan revoked Remington's $5,000 bail. The former Department of Commerce employee was led from the courtroom by U. S. Marshals, put in a prison van and taken to the Federal House of Detention.

Kaiser-Frazer Goes On 9-Hour Day To Catch Up On Strike

DETROIT—(AP)—As a large element of the auto industry continued with a layoff problem, Kaiser-Frazer went on a nine-hour day today.

K-F ordered the extra hour to make up for strike-lost time.

The layoff problem, affecting 100,000 or more workers, continued to beset many other plants.

Major producers, including Ford, Chrysler and General Motors, remained uncertain as to when full production would get into swing because of the rail strike.

Weatherman Gives State Rough Deal; More Cold Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan endured another rough day from the weather today and was threatened with more of the same.

A second successive night of sub-zero temperatures was forecast after the mercury had plunged to 16 below in the far north.

Death and peril on ice-sheathed highways accompanied the cold blast.

Three Students Killed

Three Albion college students were killed in a collision on US-12 a mile east of Albion Wednesday night. Their car skidded into a truck. A fourth student was badly hurt.

Meanwhile, high winds caused damage and danger.

East of Traverse City the wind tossed a Greyhound bus into a collision with a car, and the bus careened off onto the ice of Grand Traverse bay.

None of the bus passengers was hurt. The driver of the car, William H. Manley, of Alpena, suffered chest injuries.

There was a blinding snowstorm at the time. The bus driver, Archie J. Langlois, said a gust of wind hurled his bus against the car.

Cutter Caught In Ice

The bus veered out onto the bay ice, which held firm.

Michigan's coldest spots Wednesday night, the weather bureau reported, were the Soo and Pellston, each with 16 below. Houghton reported -12.

In lower Michigan near-zero temperatures were the rule. Lansing and Saginaw had 2 below.

Forecasters said it would be 10 to 15 below in north central Michigan tonight. The temperature is expected to rise only a little Friday. There will be snow.

The Coast Guard Cutter Woodbine was caught in ice in the Grand Haven harbor Wednesday. She had returned from South Haven after breaking open a channel for fishing boats.

India vigorously opposed the aggressor resolution sponsored by the United States on grounds it might lead to all-out war, and her attitude stirred up considerable resentment among lawmakers.

A third factor has been an increase in activity on the part of the administration to help the Indians. Some Senators expect Mr. Truman to issue a public statement, possibly Monday, urging that the United States furnish the wheat.

Herbert Charnock, an Eastville carpenter working at a residence some 100 yards from the crash site, said the plane came over the house, went into two complete spins and crashed.

An unidentified farmer told Chincoteague Naval Air station spokesmen the craft appeared to be "out of control" in very strong winds.

Darkness last night halted attempts to recover the remaining four bodies. None of the victims was identified pending notification of next of kin.

Rain was falling heavily, visibility was limited and a high wind was blowing when the R4Q Fairchild tactical transport plummeted to earth on a flight from Cherry Point, N. C., to Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y.

But he warned them, too, that the old 10-hour trick would be put back into effect if there are any more "monkeyshines" like the series of fires that has plagued prison authorities.

Eight times in less than a month the cotton mill has caught fire, and in every instance but one, prison officials blamed the prisoners for starting them. Two of the blazes were discovered yesterday and one the night before, but authorities described the damage as light.

Persons got a cheer when he reminded the convicts he had come away with the lash and publicly burned 30 of the leather straps last week.

Remains of the plane were found in a field near the crash site.

Strikers Acting Like Russians, President Says

Men Must Work Now Or Be Dismissed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army served notice on striking railway men today that they will be dismissed unless they report for work by 4 p. m. (EST) Saturday or can prove they were physically unable to work.

At the same time, the Army placed in effect hourly wage increases effective as of last Oct. 1, for men who have had no increase since September, 1948.

Pay Raise Temporary

The increases provide 12½ cents an hour more for yardmen and yard masters and five cents an hour additional for employees in road service.

Secretary of the Army Pace announced the order within two hours after President Truman had instructed that the Army take necessary action for full operation of the railroads. In harsh language, Mr. Truman told a news conference striking railroad workers had run out on an agreement like a bunch of Russians.

The Army said the wage increase would be of an interim nature pending final settlement of the dispute between railroad management and union over wages and working conditions.

The army order and notice was sent to all railroad unions and rail operators involved in the work stoppage.

Signed by assistant army secretary Karl R. Bendetsen, it said the army will recommend congressional legislation to assure resumption and continuance of normal rail service if the unions and the operators fail to settle their differences "within a reasonable time."

Draft Not Mentioned

Mr. Truman refused to tell a news conference, however, whether his order to the army called for drafting or strikers—a move

Woman, 65, Freezes To Death; Mother, 92, Powerless To Help

SAGINAW, Mich.—(AP)—A 65-year-old woman fell and froze to death virtually on her own doorstep today while her crippled 92-year-old mother moved about helplessly inside, unable to help.

Coroner Richard F. Gugel said the younger woman, Mrs. Edna B. Crawford, drove home to Bridgeport from work about 2 a. m., and got stuck in her own snowy driveway.

In setting out of the car Mrs. Crawford, also partially crippled, slipped and fell. She was unable to get up.

Her mother, Mrs. Lillian Youth, came out and attempted to lift her, but could not.

Mrs. Crawford then told the mother to go in and telephone a neighbor. The mother went back inside, but did not know how to operate the telephone, the coroner said.

Mrs. Youth did not go out again, but kept awake in the house until morning, when a neighbor found the daughter's body.

Government Prepares To Unfreeze Clothing And Home Furnishings

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government is almost ready to unfreeze the retail prices of men's clothes, women's clothes, cosmetics, furniture, rugs, lamps, pots and pans. One immediate result will be lots of price rises.

In place of the present tight freeze on those and similar items, the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) will restrict the percentage of "margin" between what the retailer pays and what he receives.

Retailers Squeezed

OPS officials said the new regulation will probably be issued late this week or early next week. It will be the first of a series of "margin" type orders which were promised when the temporary price freeze of Jan. 25 was announced.

Here is why price rises are expected: The new regulation will enable retailers to pass on to their customers many increases that wholesalers had put into effect before the Jan. 25 freeze date.

Government economists say a certain amount of that must occur to prevent an intolerable squeeze on retailers whose costs have gone up.

They say this is one thing Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston had in mind yesterday when he predicted that the cost of living will continue to rise for a few more months and then level off by midsummer.

Margins To Be Cut

OPS officials also hope to lower prices in some cases by rolling back the size of margins to a selected date. To illustrate, if a retailer's margin on a particular item was 40 per cent on the selected date, and he has since raised it to 45 per cent, he would have to cut it back to 40.

OPS Director Michael V. DiSalle said in a radio interview broadcast last night that the OPS would "somehow attempt" to fix margins as they existed before the Korean outbreak last June, and he thought maybe there would be "astonishing" results in some industries.

An expected OPS order regulating slaughtering, in an effort to curtail black markets in meats before they get started, has been delayed a day or two.

The OPS late yesterday exempted from the price freeze virtually all wool products that are earmarked for national defense agencies.

The OPS also said it is considering some relief for restaurant owners whose food costs have gone up so fast that they are getting squeezed in the freeze. The restaurant group came in yesterday and made a vigorous complaint.

Marine Kills Wife While Police Wait At Grosse Pointe

DETROIT — (AP)—The terrifying blast of a shotgun ended a last 15-minute talk, police allowed a young marine with his socially prominent estranged wife in suburban Grosse Pointe at midnight.

Breaking through a barricaded door, the policemen found Mrs. Virginia Hebb Daly, 22, dying on her bed, a shotgun charge in her abdomen.

Planned Suicide Plot

In the center of the room, his hands above his head stood Pvt. Albert Larter Daly, 23, begging: "Don't shoot! Please, please don't shoot!"

Daly claimed his wife was shot accidentally, but police chief Thomas V. Trombly of Grosse Pointe labeled the claim a "lie."

He said a note found on Daly indicated he had intended to kill his wife and himself and leave the impression they had died together in a voluntary suicide pact.

Daly admitted, Trombly said, that he broke into the home occupied by Mrs. Daly and her widowed mother, Mrs. Pauline Hebb, and hid in a closet three hours, the shotgun clutched in his hands, awaiting their return.

When the women discovered a door pane broken and started to call police, Daly raced from his hiding place, knocked Mrs. Hebb down, grabbed his estranged wife and fled to her bedroom with her, locking and barricading the door.

Minutes Counted Off

Patrolmen Robert Van Tien, Jewel Deraedt and George Moffat answered Mrs. Hebb's frantic call, and told the barricaded Daly: "We've got the house surrounded. You can't get away with this. Just be sensible and come out before anyone gets hurt."

"I won't come out till I've talked with Ginny," Daly called back.

Jury Convicts Two For Embezzlement

SAGINAW, Mich.—(AP)—Wesley R. Banning, former Saginaw housing commission executive secretary and director, was convicted by a jury in circuit court last night of embezzling housing commission funds.

The jury also convicted Stanley G. Strachan, an electrician, who was tried with Banning.

The convictions carry possible sentences up to five years or maximum fines of $2,500.

Judge Eugene S. Huff continued bonds for both men pending sentence. Banning is free on $2,000 bond and Strachan on $1,000 bond. Judge Huff deferred sentence pending probation reports.

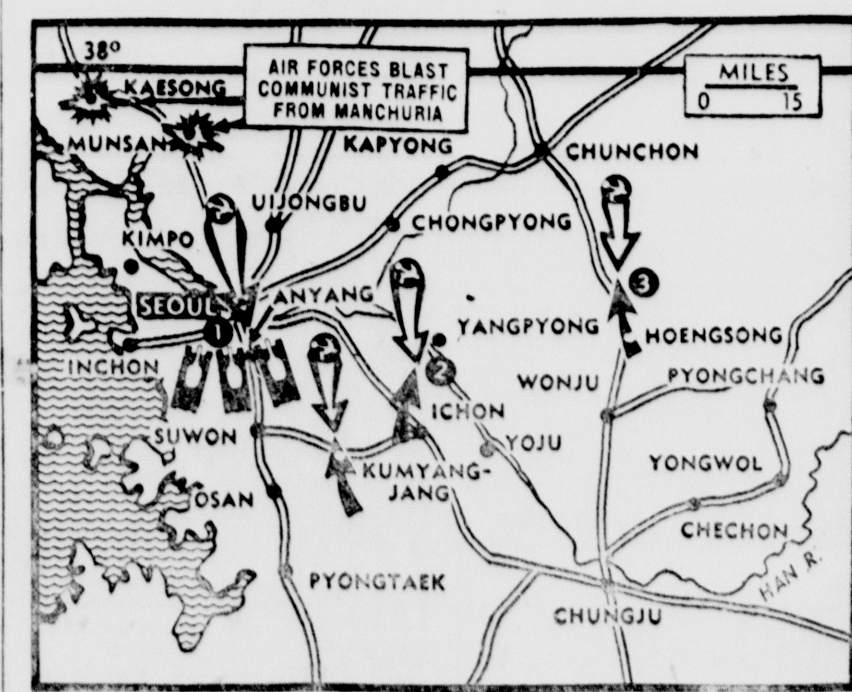

Banning and Strachan were indicted Aug. 27, 1949, by Circuit Judge Herman H. Dehnke of Harrisville, who was then Saginaw county grand juror. Banning was accused of issuing a $134.10 housing commission check to Strachan although Strachan allegedly had done no work for the commission.

Banning was accused of having the check written to pay off part of a personal debt. As recipient of the check, Strachan was charged with being an accessory.

In another warrant, Banning alone was charged with embezzling $370. He has not been brought to trial on that charge.

Newberry Hospital Cow Makes Record

Newberry Zelma Homestead, a registered Holstein-cow in the herd owned by Newberry State Hospital, Newberry, Michigan has just completed a lifetime production record of more than 100,000 pounds of milk on official test with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America. She is the 2459th Holstein in the nation's history to produce more than this amount of milk.

In 7 yearly milking periods, "Zelma" has produced a total of 108,544 pounds of milk and 3,151 pounds of butterfat. Her highest single record was made at the age of 6 years 1 month when she produced 18,713 pounds of milk and 558 pounds of butterfat.

U. P. Highway Force Discusses Problems

Highway construction in Northern Michigan drops to a minimum during the winter months for a very good reason—a cold wave such as that now blanketing the Upper Peninsula causes delays and expensive equipment breakdowns.

The cold weather and other problems of road construction survey, soils and design were discussed today by about 100 state highway department field personnel force in annual mid-winter meeting at Escanaba. The two-day meeting, with sessions held in the court house, will end late this afternoon.

Typical cold weather experience of road contractors is a slow progress on the job, plus breakdown of equipment when temperatures drop to 15 and 20 degrees below zero. Only one project, grading and drainage and the construction of two bridges spanning the Firesteel river on M-26, is continuing this winter in the Upper Peninsula.

Discussion among the state highway field personnel revealed only one favorable aspect of cold in connection with highway construction. In certain types of clay and wet soils moderate cold (zero to 25 degrees above) facilitates soil removal in grading and drainage work.

C. H. Cash, Lansing, state highway department construction engineer, was chairman of the field personnel conference closing today. Similar meetings are also held in Lower Peninsula highway districts.

The discussion of general road construction problems is annually scheduled in mid-winter because construction work is lightest at that time. New methods of design, survey and construction and other problems relating to highway development are discussed at the meetings.

Ironwood Mine Project Pushed

Peninsula Delegation Heard In Washington

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A group of citizens from Ironwood, Mich., had assurance today from Secretary of Interior Chapman the government is keenly interested in development of mineral resources in their area.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan obtained an appointment with Chapman for the group yesterday.

The group, headed by Manager William L. Johnson of the Ironwood Chamber of Commerce, also conferred at length with Robert Ridgeway, chief of the ferrous metals and alloys section.

Officials of the defense minerals administration were requested by Chapman to instruct the group how to apply for a loan to reopen the North Norrie mine. The Michigan group estimated the mine could produce high grade ore for at least 20 years longer.

Abandoned In 1935
The mine was abandoned in 1935 because of subsidence and damage claims growing out of this. Surface rights are owned by Ironwood and the mineral rights by the State of Michigan.

Ridgeway told the visitors that negotiations for a loan must be made by the mine's owners or potential operators. He recommended that they confer with the owners of the property and then proceed with a formal application.

More information must be supplied before the eligibility of the mine project for government aid can be determined, Ridgeway told a reporter. He said the delegation will have to be taken before any help will be forthcoming.

"First," he said, "they must get an operator for the mine. These were only civic-minded people interested in the project."

"Then the operator must get leases on the property so that we will know he is ready to go ahead. Finally, the operator would have to submit a detailed proposition to us, giving facts and figures. Then we can determine if he can qualify for government aid."

Ore For 20 Years
Johnson told a reporter the mine should be able to produce high quality ore for at least 20 more years. He said government aid of at least $250,000 would be needed for exploratory work.

Robert J. Byers, chief industrial agent for the Michigan department of economic development, was a member of the delegation. He expressed belief there would be little difficulty in finding an operator for the mine.

"Both Mr. Chapman and the defense minerals people showed interest in the project," Byers said. "They have shown us the route we must take and we now know exactly where we stand. We think it is evident there is a large body of high-grade ore in this mine. In this defense emergency, it should be used."

The delegation realized, Byers said, it was not a legal entity with which the minerals administration could deal officially or which could be offered a loan or grant. The project also would have to win approval of the office of defense mobilization and the national production authority.

U. P. City Denies Radio Broadcasts

Marquette Won't Have Meetings 'Aired'

A proposal to broadcast city commission meetings in Marquette over Radio Station WDMJ this week was rejected by the Marquette city commission by a 3-2 vote.

The proposal to broadcast meetings, which has been done in Escanaba since 1948, was sponsored by the Marquette Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Marquette Jaycees, at a meeting Monday night, sought permission of that city's commission to install a telephone line in the city hall to facilitate recording of commission proceedings for broadcast at a later hour.

Claude S. Bishop, president of the Marquette JCC chapter and 17 members represented the group at the commission meeting. Mayor Bernard L. York and Commissioners George S. Raish and Victor L. Tuominen voted against the request and Commissioners L. W. Bruum and Thomas C. Harmon dissented in the motion to deny permission to install a telephone line.

Reads Prepared Statement
Mayor York, in a prepared statement, said that if the commission granted the request to install a telephone line, the commission actually would put a stamp of approval on the broadcast of the meetings.

"I am of the opinion that very little good could come from the broadcasts, whereas much harm might accrue," York said. He further stated that anyone interested in the proceedings can read news articles in the Marquette paper, and thus be fully informed. The Marquette mayor also pointed out that, judging from the size of the audience, there is very little public interest in the meetings.

"Although most of our problems do get some discussion on the floor, I am fearful that the presence of a microphone would further reduce that to a bare minimum," York declared.

Escanaba is pointed out as the shining example of benefits obtainable through broadcast of meetings, but in contacting several residents, I only found the radio station in favor of the broadcasts there," York asserted.

He said that among the comments he received were:

First, it stifles good government; 2 it drives commission meetings into private sessions; 3 To one who has political ambitions and has a good speaking voice, it enhances his possibilities with the public through supporting prominent issues with great public appeal; 4 it will positively gag an otherwise good commissioner who does not have a good speaking voice; or a good command of the English language; 5 The mere presence of a microphone with the knowledge that every word said is being "aired" will retard a commissioner from publicly expressing his opinions; 6 The broadcast of Escanaba meetings is commonly referred to in that community as the "Peter Logan hour." Peter Logan is Escanaba's mayor.

It will class the city commission as an entertainment hour. Commission meetings are serious business. It will offer a professional "crank" an opportunity to air his views to the public when his criticism may be unfounded and dangerous both to the city and the commission; and 9 it will deprive the listening public of an otherwise "good" program just to "air" stolid proceedings of an ordinarily dull and uninteresting meeting.

"Your city commission does not intend to run a musical comedy or a question and answer show," York concluded.

Bishop told the commission it "had no earthly reason to deny citizens the privilege of hearing what goes on" and that the JCC could not see where it was anything but political death for the commission or mayor to refuse to be heard.

"To say there is plenty of room in the city hall for those interested in hearing the meetings is like saying there is plenty of pew space in church, so why broadcast services?" Bishop pointed out.

The JCC president told the Marquette commission that though Ironwood turned down the proposal, a commissioner there is interested in what happens in Marquette and wants to have a complete report.

LeMire's Views
Bishop also read a letter to the Marquette commission from Atty. Robert E. LeMire of Escanaba. LeMire, a member of the city council in Escanaba and former mayor, said in part, in his letter: "As a result of my inquiries, I am satisfied that the great majority of the people in Escanaba are very enthusiastic with the broadcast. I feel that the broadcast of our meetings has created a greater interest in the government and the affairs of our municipality. Further, I believe it is helpful to the council, as it gives the people an opportunity to learn of the problems with which we are confronted."

"Members of the city commission are directly responsible to the people. Because of large budgets under which we operate, I believe the public is entitled to know how their money is spent. Further, I believe the public is entitled to have first hand information as to all activities, decisions and actions of the council."

"I personally feel that the broadcast of the council meetings tends toward a greater interest in city government among the people, resulting in better city government," LeMire wrote.

In concluding his plea before the city commission Bishop pointed out: "You have renewed interest in Ironwood; undeniable success in Escanaba and genuine interest at Marquette. Certainly, your decision for the betterment of Marquette can only go ahead!"

Conduct Hearing In Gladstone
A hearing was to be held in Gladstone this afternoon on the revoking of an auto operator's license held by Frank Bushey of 1408 North 23rd street.

Sgt. Ralph Sheahan of the Marquette police post was to conduct the hearing. John Finn, assistant Escanaba police chief, represented Escanaba police.

Bushey was involved in an accident Dec. 24 in which Helmer Linastrom of 1107 South 23rd street suffered fatal injuries. In Michigan, the law prescribes that an operator's license be revoked following a fatal accident.

Daylight Saving To Be Proposed For Menominee

MENOMINEE, Mich. — Voters will get another chance to express their views on daylight saving time for this city during the summer months. City council last night directed the judiciary committee to prepare an advisory ballot for submission to the voters on April 2 on whether daylight time should be put into effect.

The ballot will be the result of a petition filed with council last summer asking that daylight time be invoked. The petition, bearing several hundred signatures, was filed after council had voted to reject daylight time for the summer of 1950. However, it was agreed at that time that the proposal would be submitted to the electors for a vote this spring.

Time Lost By Railroad Strike Harmful To National Defense

THE back-to-work movement in the railroad system, particularly in the eastern states, offers some genuine hope that the railroad workers will completely abandon their walkout and return the vital transportation industry to normal.

Unfortunately, the strike is still paralyzing in the middle west and especially in Chicago, the largest freight shipping center in the world. Thousands of workers in industrial plants throughout the nation have been forced into idleness by the crippling railroad strike.

The hours of work lost in the past week because of the railroad walkout means vital war production that cannot be regained. We are confronted with a race against time in the cold war between the western nations and Soviet Russia. We cannot afford to dissipate the time that is available to us. We are in a national emergency that is extremely critical. It is unfortunate that the railroad switchmen have been unable to recognize it.

Perhaps they are now recognizing it, which may account for the back to work movement. We can only hope that the trend continues—and fast. The workers undoubtedly have a grievance, but no grievance can justify a strike that jeopardizes the nation itself and its preservation.

U. S. 'Foreign Legion' Has Possibilities

AN American "foreign legion" for service in the North American defense force has been proposed by Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado as a means of relieving the necessity for drawing heavily upon American men for military service in Europe.

The proposal is one that undoubtedly meets with considerable support in this country. The prospective heavy drain in manpower in the United States for the rebuilding of an anti-Communist defense force in Europe is disconcerting, to say the least. It poses a serious problem of disruption of our industrial force and disruption of our school system. In addition, of course, it jeopardizes the lives of the young Americans who would be called upon to serve in the army aligned against Communistic aggression.

There is little doubt that an American "foreign legion" created for service in Europe would be attractive to hundreds of thousands of Europeans, particularly if service in the "legion" including provision for eventual citizenship in the United States.

If such a military force, representing the United States, were organized in Europe, however, assurances would certainly have to be provided that the existence of the American "foreign legion" would in no way relieve European nations of their own obligations under the North Atlantic treaty.

READY-MADE STORM (Christian Science Monitor)

A local columnist in one of our contemporary journals was discoursing the other day on the uses of rain-making. For reasons of kindness he shall be nameless in this reference. One of his allusions was to "the axiom—Shakespearean, we believe—that the rain falls alike upon the just and the unjust."

It is true, as the girl in the sophomore English class surprised remarked, that Shakespeare "knew an awful lot of quotations" (even before they became quoted). But the commentator will find the source of his maxim more readily if he will look in the fifth chapter of Matthew, verse 45, than by searching the lines of the Bard of Avon.

He went on to say, "Or suppose the weatherman predicts a storm." Never mind; he will get his storm. Just wait till the letter carrier arrives.

POLITICAL TRAINING? (Reporter Magazine)

Politics in the United States would be greatly simplified and take on infinitely more meaning if the two major parties were to inaugurate a system similar to baseball's winter training session. The Republicans would benefit, for example, if Wayne Morse could be bartered for a couple of fast young Dixiecrat congressmen and a little cash. If President Truman could get George Aiken in exchange for Pat McCarran and a copy of the Congressional Record bound in limp leather, both teams would function more smoothly.

Bakers in a Pennsylvania town have asked for more dough. It might come under the head of give and take.

Andover: Will you please explain the dot over "i" and "j," and tell us why the "i" is crossed?—E. F. N.

A. The "i" and "j" both evolved from the Greek letter iota, which is like a small "i" without the dot. Before the invention of printing, all books, letters, manuscripts, etc., were, of course, handwritten. It was difficult to distinguish the "i" from other letters, such as "u," so "i" was given an acute accent mark (a small mark slanting to the right). In time, the accent mark became the dot.

Now at the beginning of words, "i" often had the sound of "j." The word juice, for example, in Middle English was spelled "juice," just as spelled "juist," joy was spelled "ioye," and so on. So a new letter—"J"—was developed from the Latin "I," and the small letter was written with a dot to distinguish "j" from "i" and "l."

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Almost as interesting as the military secrets he revealed—which cannot be told—was the human side of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as he briefed the House armed services and foreign affairs committee on his recent trip to Europe.

Ike impressed congressmen with his honesty and humility during the closed-door session. There wasn't a member present—Democrat or Republican—who was not solidly in his corner when it was over.

Probably the best compliment was paid by articulate Carl Vinson of Georgia, House armed services chairman, who did not open his mouth once during the entire meeting. As one congressman remarked: "A guy has to be good to make Carl, who dominates all our meetings, take a back seat."

Eisenhower reported that Europeans generally were "determined" to fight Communism, with our help, but he added that we should not adopt a "mendicant attitude" toward Germany or any other nation, as they they are doing us a favor by fighting their own battles against Soviet aggression.

"I'm the kind of a guy who would rather go down with my flag nailed to the masthead, fighting for what I believe in," he emphasized. "Those who are helping must show the same spirit."

Ike also told the closed-door meeting that Marshal Zhukov, former Soviet commandant in Berlin, was in bad with the Kremlin, apparently because of a too-friendly attitude toward western powers.

"Back in the days when I knew him, Zhukov was hand-in-glove with Stalin," Eisenhower said. "But the last I heard of him, he was riding around in an old Ford that could use a repair job."

FUTURE OF FOOT SOLDIER

While Ike was stressing the importance of sea and air power, GOP Rep. Carroll Reece of Tennessee inquired if he wasn't "minimizing" the importance of the foot soldier.

"I don't want to be understood at any time as minimizing the responsibility and ability of the doughboy," Eisenhower replied quickly. "No fight has ever been won without him. The air force and the navy get the cheers, but the doughboys get the white crosses in the ground."

At one point when he felt that he was growing preachy, Ike grinned: "If I sound philosophical, just remember that I have been a college president."

But he didn't sound like a college president a moment later, when, stressing the importance of unity with our European allies, he said:

"We'd be in a hell of a fix —"

Then he apologized to Congresswoman Frances Bolton of Ohio and Edna Kelly of New York.

One congressman, alluding to Ike's statement that the European people were "determined" to carry on the fight against Communism, asked him the reason. Chief of Staff General Alfred Gruenther broke in to answer the question.

"Ike himself is chiefly responsible," he said. "He sold the Europeans on the idea that we couldn't help them much unless they had the will to fight for their own salvation."

"That's the first time in my life that a chief of staff has ever embarrassed me," commented Eisenhower.

CAPITOL LOWDOWN

House doorkeeper "Fishbait" Miller, who is also in charge of the House "folding room," has an interesting way of taking care of his stepmother-in-law. He places her on the folding room payroll and lets Uncle Sam foot the bill. If Fishbait does this for his stepmother-in-law, wonder what he does for his closer relatives? (The "folding room" sends out literature, franked mail, etc., to congressmen's constituents.)

Though H. S. T. has Bernie Baruch on the presidential black list, Baruch still has plenty of power in Washington. Two of his closest friends, Gen. Lucius Clay and Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, have key defense jobs, while Baruch also cracks the whip occasionally over mobilization czar Charles E. Wilson.

More than $1,000,000 was spent for lumber, hardware and paint by Mrs. Winchester who permitted only the finest materials to be used in the construction of her fantastic spook house.

Built with utter disregard for utility, Winchester House was a weird jumble of cupolas, towers, and minarets, and at the time of her death had 160 strange rooms covering six acres.

Widow Of Noted Rifle Manufacturer Built House To Achieve 'Immortality'

By DOUGLAS N. RHODES

So you want a home that's different?

Some folks do, apparently, and they're not satisfied with just differentness. For them, the house unique is the only thing that will suffice.

There are a surprising number of curious, one-of-a-kind homes scattered about the country, and this is a story about some of the oddest of them.

30 Years To Build

For example, there's Winchester House, a fabulous mansion constructed near San Jose, California, which was more than thirty years a-building because of the whim of Mrs. Sarah Winchester, the late widow of the noted rifle manufacturer.

The almost unbelievable, but true, annals of this house began back in the middle 1880s when Mrs. Winchester was told at a spiritualist seance that she would live eternally provided she built a home and kept it forever in the process of construction. With her $1,000 a day income she was able to put the experiment to the test. It failed, of course, but before she died she had kept 16 artisans working 36 years constantly fabricating, wrecking and rebuilding portions of a home the like of which never was seen before or since.

Designed with utter disregard for utility, Winchester House and its mad jumble of cupolas, towers and minarets was built in haphazard fashion—over six acres—a bewildering maze of 160 gothic rooms, not a dozen of which were on the same level, 47 fireplaces, half of them blank; 13 bathrooms—all with glass doors—and hundreds of crazy stairways. One, of 45 steps, each 2 1/2 inches high, rises just nine feet.

Had 2,000 Doors

Two thousand doors, some with golden hinges; 10,000 windows, and five separate heating systems gave some idea of the magnitude of the structure. A visitor easily could have become lost within fifty feet of the front door, because of the complicated system of corridors and interlocking hallways. A housekeeper who lived there 18 years confessed she had never been over the whole house. Rooms were built within rooms, like Chinese puzzleboxes; stairways that lead to nowhere; and a bathroom furnished with two heating units and no other fixtures. One room in which Mrs. Winchester held daily communion with the spirits was completely lined with white satin, even to the floor.

From this room led countless secret passageways. After locking herself in, the mistress of Winchester House often would unnerve the servants by suddenly reappearing in some other part of the building.

Though generous in payment of salaries, she experienced difficulty maintaining a steady household staff. The mansion's potent atmosphere of creepy horror, and Sarah Winchester's penchant for visiting her retainers' bedrooms in the dead of night via trapdoors, was more than most of them were willing to endure. The servant problem became so acute she was finally forced to place a standing order for domestics with a local employment agency.

Not so with the workmen engaged in the endless task of building the weird architectural monstrosity. Several carpenters remained at work throughout the entire 36-year period. One man lost not a day's work in twenty years and some members of the original crew, waxing independent on their $20 daily wage, retired. Their places were filled by sons unborn when Winchester House was begun.

Cost Over Million

Mrs. Winchester permitted only the finest materials to be used. More than $1,000,000 went for lumber, hardware and other builder's supplies. Gold and silver leaf, exquisitely carved mahogany, and heavily embossed wall paper costing $25 a roll were used in abundance.

The owned lived as a recluse, curtly denying admission to all callers. When President Theodore Roosevelt sought to visit Winchester House she vehemently refused him hospitality. City officials endeavored to press the point but she rallied her workmen and threatened to defy the president and all the armed forces of the nation.

And so, left strictly alone, this most extraordinary person lived and died a solitary figure who seldom ventured beyond the confines of her bizarre estate. In almost four decades the front door was opened but once—and that was for Sarah Winchester to be borne out in her coffin.

Castle Of Horrors

Though not comparable to Winchester House in size or lavish expenditure, the late T. K. Jasper's 22-room castle of horrors near Los Angeles was a perfect example of what ample funds and a taste for the macabre can produce.

Surrounded by a 13-foot stone wall and a deep, water-filled moat, the estate could be entered only by crossing a huge medieval drawbridge. The combined efforts of two husky men were required to raise or lower the bridge which operated by winding heavy chains onto a hand windlass.

The house, a grotesque edifice of molded concrete blocks, was constructed to present the uninviting appearance of an old world prison, with thick iron bars guarding some of the windows, chicken wire stretched over others; and an air of impending doom hanging over the somber dwelling and its overgrown, weed infested courtyard.

But the interior and its grisly furnishings offered the greatest shock to the visitor. Skulls grinning from a teakwood mantle in the damp, dungeon-like drawing room, and suits of armor lurking in dark corners. Thimbles, rakes and an "iron maiden"—ancient torture devices—further heightened the sinister atmosphere. The dining room table, a burial casket inverted and fitted with legs, also added a macabre touch.

Used Candles for Light

Between rooms, in place of doors, massive iron gates were constructed, in a basket-weave effect, with one of them estimated to weigh more than two tons. All opened and closed vertically by means of ropes and chains attached to primitive hand windlasses, necessitating delay and labor before entering or leaving a closed room.

The castle never was wired for electricity. Throughout his twenty-year residence, Mr. Jasper and his retinue depended solely on candles for artificial light.

Four acres of brush-filled grounds testify to his lack of interest in horticulture; yet the garden was not overlooked in the pursuit of his weird hobby. Hanging from a nearby tree was the hideous masterpiece of the gruesome collection, a life-sized, papier-mache effigy of a pot-bellied knight clad in full coat of mail, except for helmet, and dangling by the neck at the end of a hangman's rope, the head twisted to simulate a broken neck. With eyes rolled back, mouth agape, the figure presented a horrifying spectacle of a man in his death agony. As a final touch, a great stuffed vulture perched on the shoulder, its ugly beak buried deep in the dummy's neck!

Lived As Hermit

Like Sarah Winchester, Jasper led a hermit-like existence banning all social intercourse to the day of his death. Distant relatives who inherited Jasper's estate did not share his enthusiasm for grim objects. They promptly locked it up and placed it in the hands of a realtor with instructions to rent or sell as is.

The building of unusual homes is not confined to wealthy persons with a flair for spooky environment. Others succumb to the urge to have a house that's really "different."

Such an individual was Elis Stenman of Pigeon Cove, Massachusetts, who built a comfortable home and furnished it—with newspapers.

Stenman perfected a process which enabled him to fold or roll newspapers tightly and fashion them into panels or furniture. Once he had mastered the technique of fabricating his unique building material, Stenman began the task of converting it into a home. Other members of the family caught his enthusiasm and helped to help. Before long their efforts were rewarded with a dwelling as sturdy and satisfactory as many built of more orthodox material.

Hard times have caused many people to rely on their ingenuity to provide themselves with a home. A German solved his housing problem by purchasing an obsolete airplane and converting it into a tiny cottage. A mother and daughter in Cuba took up abode in the placements of a huge abandoned cannon overlooking Havana's harbor. In Hollywood there are several comfortable and appearing houses built entirely from discarded movie sets.

Freedom Is A Precious Gift

Freedom is a precious gift which can be snatched from the weak or careless.—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

BEHIND THE CURTAIN—The long arm of the American Junior Red Cross reaches a friendly hand behind the iron curtain and into the Russian zone of Germany, bringing gifts from American boys and girls.

Proof is contained in a recent letter received by Terry DeRouin, 1218 North 18th street, Escanaba, from a school girl in Salzgetter, Germany. Terry's name, and address were in a Junior Red Cross gift package collected when he was in kindergarten last year. Nearly a year later came the following reply:

"Dear School Pal:

"We had a big surprise in our school yesterday when the little packages were given out. I got a ball, two bars of soap, buttons, needles, thread, and a wash cloth. I was happy. I thank you very much for everything. When I opened the soap package I found your slip with your name and address.

"I am 11 years old and I'm going to school in the fourth year. We are two children in our family. My brother is 10 years old. My father died six years ago. My mother is sewing all day long because that is the only income we have, which is very little. After school I help mother do the housework so she can do more sewing.

"I would be very happy if you would answer me this letter.

"Irene Ryll."

INTERCEPTED LETTER: Dear Harry: I see by the papers that you propose higher excise taxes on automobiles to help pay for the war effort.

One way to save money for national defense would be to separate a few of your federal employees from government-owned cars. Last Sunday I saw a government car with skis on top going out to the ski hills; last fall other government cars were used on hunting trips; last spring they were seen along the trout streams.

Please don't investigate this—it will cost too much money.

Tillie the Taxpayer.

PRECAUTIONS—Harold Lindsay of Escanaba, secretary-manager of the U. P. State Fair, telephoned the other day (he was leaving soon on a business trip to Chicago) to report that he and the fair board and local law enforcement agencies do everything possible to keep the fair clean and honest.

All concessions are subject to inspection and must have the okay of the law enforcement officers. Off-color shows have been closed, Indian "remedies" vendors have been thrown out of the fair, and food establishments must meet sanitation requirements of the Michigan department of agriculture. Besides being clean there must be no food adulteration. Too much bread in the hamburgers brought penalties on a couple stand operators last year.

The fair board has two plainclothes officers working the ground, who report direct to the board, and Lindsay has another who does police leg work for him.

BUT THOSE BULBS—But those "flowering" bulbs that didn't flower, we asked, what about them?

There, said Lindsay, is clearly a case of oversight on the part of the state department of agriculture, who inspect all of the bulbs and other agricultural items offered for sale at the fair.

Last year a concessionaire sold a variety of Chinese water plant bulb that was supposed to burst into beautiful flowers six inches in circumference. They never bloomed, never even sprouted, and folks claimed they were gyped.

Many legitimate local growers of bulbs, principally gladioli, sold bushels of them and there have been repeat orders from states as far distant as Texas and Florida. The bulbs grown in Northern Michigan are considered superior because of their hardiness.

All of us who work for the fair recognize our responsibility to the public," Lindsay declared. "We try to keep faith with the people and if there is occasional failure it is not because we have not tried to present a clean, honest and educational public event."

FOOTNOTES—The U. P. State Fair has growing pains. . . more dairy barns, more space for 4-H dairy, more space for exhibits are needed. . . greater agricultural emphasis. . . industries are expanding their displays in the "show window of the Upper Peninsula."

Weather Man

By Gordon Martin

You may like to think you've got the hardest job there is to do, and that easy are the many tasks which other folks pursue. But no matter if your job is tough, there's one that's tougher still, and you ought to thank your stars it isn't one that you must fill. For there isn't anyone on earth who's always on the pan, like that harried, worried, stewin' gent we call the weather man.

Now it's often said, of weather, that the people like to talk, but do little else about it save to voice their awful squawk. And no matter if the weather should be labeled good or bad, there are some a bit dissatisfied and others very mad. Pop may pray for rain, the kids for snow, while Mother wants some sun, and the weather man can't please 'em all, and hence has little fun.

And should quite contrary elements his careful forecast wreck, then he's just a bum who doesn't know his weather job at all, and he brings you spring and summer—when you're told it will be fall. Thus he needs a hide that's plenty thick—he's always on the pan, for nobody takes a beating like that harried weather man.

Wages Raised For AP Staff

Newsmen Pay Boosted To $120 A Week

NEW YORK — (AP)—Editorial and general office employees of the Associated Press who earn less than $145 weekly were awarded wage increases ranging from $3 to $5.50 per week Tuesday by an arbitration board.

The award is subject to approval by the wage stabilization board, since wire service employees' wages now are frozen.

The AP and the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) submitted the issue of wages to arbitration last Nov. 6 after failing to reach agreement in contract negotiations. Other provisions of the new two-year contract, including a wage-opening clause next November had been agreed.

The arbitration board also raised salary minimums for newsmen, radio newsmen, and photographers with six years experience from $110 to $120 in New York, Chicago and Washington.

Other minimums for newsmen and photographers, which had ranged from $45 to $105, were raised to levels from $50 to $115.

The general increase goes from $3 weekly for those earning less than $60 to $5.50 for those earning at least $120 but less than $145 weekly.

Increases are retroactive to Nov. 5, 1950.

Veto Of Gen. Kunzig's Salary By Governor Declared Invalid

LANSING—(AP)—Governor Williams' veto of Louis A. Kunzig's $10,380 salary as liquor commission director last June was declared invalid by Attorney General Frank G. Millard.

At the request of three senators, Millard ruled that the state department of administration was wrong in refusing to pay Kunzig's salary since last July 1.

Williams filed the original bill with the secretary of state and sent a copy back to the Senate. The Senate contended he should

Menominee Mayor Promotes Ferry

MENOMINEE, Mich. — Mayor Otto R. Eickmeyer believes "the wheel that squeaks the loudest is the wheel that gets the grease" and he doesn't believe Menominee has been squeaking loud enough in Lansing. He told council last night that Menominee should start a long, loud squeak around the state capital for state ferry service between this city and the lower peninsula. Eickmeyer said he had the assurance of Rep. James Goulette (Iron Mountain Republican) that he would help with the squeaking.

The mayor's remarks were made in report on a recent visit to Lansing where he attended the annual convention of the Michigan Supervisors Association. He said Goulette told him Menominee was lax in its contacts with the state capital and that other U. P. cities were always sending delegations to Lansing to ask for—and generally getting—something for their communities.

Goulette expressed the opinion that Menominee had a good case in its demand for state ferry service and suggested that data be prepared for submission to the legislature. Eickmeyer said Goulette was enthused about his suggestion that the city donate the bay shore tourist park off lower 1st street as a site for a state ferry dock.

Health Officials Urge Heart Check On Valentine Day

There's good news in the heart field, the Michigan department of health said today, in urging Michigan people to check up on their hearts on St. Valentine's day.

Medical examinations at regular intervals make possible the detection of heart changes early, when they can be treated to prevent further damage, the department said.

People with heart defects can live to a ripe old age if they follow their physicians' recommendations. The great majority of heart attacks aren't fatal, and the person who has one heart attack may live for many years without a second attack, and then die of another cause entirely. Death rates from heart diseases in the older ages are declining.

There is a decline, also, in the incidence of rheumatic fever, due in part to the use of antibiotics in treatment of "strep" infections. Wider general knowledge of the symptoms of rheumatic fever and earlier diagnosis and care are cutting down on heart damage and deaths due to the disease.

Newly developed surgical procedures are improving the outlook for youngsters with certain types of congenital heart disease. Increasing use of penicillin and other antibiotics are reducing deaths due to heart disease of syphilitic origin.

While diseases of the heart and arteries are listed as the cause of more deaths each year, this is due in part to a marked decrease in mortality from infectious diseases at all ages and a resulting increase in the number of people in the older age group.

St. Valentine's day is national heart day and February, national heart month.

If your doctor tells you that you have a heart condition, take his advice, and take it easy! There are more cardiacs living complete, full lives today than there have been at any time in the world's history, the Michigan department of health said.

Russia Has 672 Rail Disaster Fatal To 83 Investigated; New Trestle Untested

War Dept. Payment Demanded By U. S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States has formally demanded that Russia immediately return 672 lend-lease naval and merchant ships loaned her during World War II.

The state department disclosed that the demand was made in a note handed yesterday to Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Pushkin. Pushkin is representing his country in the latest of a series of lend-lease talks.

The U. S. is asking Russia to pay $800,000,000 in settlement of a wartime account of $1,000,000,000 Russia reportedly has made a "final offer" of $240,000,000.

Officials said Russian representatives have refused to discuss return of the ships, insisting their governments want to buy the vessels. They include 87 merchant ships.

The U. S. refuses to sell them unless the Russians settle their over-all lend-lease account.

These developments were made public here after the Russian newspaper Pravda accused the U. S. of trying to sabotage the talks. The paper said Britain was given a better deal than that offered Russia.

State department officials denied this.

They said Moscow is being asked to pay the $800,000,000 for $2,600,000,000 in lend lease supplies which had peace-time value, such as trucks. They figure this amounts to about 30 cents on the dollar.

On the other hand, they said, Britain paid $472,000,000 for $780,000,000 in similar equipment with peace-time value. This would be about 60 cents on the dollar.

Physician Educated By Government Won't Register For Draft

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Although he was educated largely at government expense, Dr. Raleigh Henry Pickard won't register for the doctors' draft.

"Registration for war is wrong because war is wrong," Dr. Pickard, 28, wrote his Berkeley, Calif., draft board. He is studying to be a Methodist missionary.

The government ordered his arrest. He was brought before U. S. commissioner Francis St. J. Fox who set his hearing for next week and released him on $1,000 bail.

During World War II Pickard served two years in the army medical corps as a conscientious objector. He was drafted in 1943, studied at Vanderbilt University medical school under the army and later completed his education under the GI Bill of Rights.

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. — (AP) — Speed and sabotage were being probed today as possible causes of the third major rail disaster within a year in the New York metropolitan area.

Inquiries into the death-trap derailment of a commuter-crowded Pennsylvania railroad train Tuesday night were scheduled by the interstate commerce commission in New York and the Middlesex county prosecutor's office in nearby New Brunswick.

Daddy Sends Birthday Wish To Little Girl; Gets Killed In Action

SPARTANBURG, S. C. — (AP) — Seven-year-old Betty Foster got a birthday letter from her daddy in Korea last week. Last night she learned he was killed in action two days after he wrote her. This is what M-Sgt. Carl F. Foster wrote his daughter Jan. 20:

"Happy, happy birthday to my little girl on her seventh birthday. I hope you may have many, many more x x x and that your daddy and mother can share the occasion with you in the peace and security of a free home and country."

"Betty, I am over here in Korea x x x where men are killed, crippled or maimed for life, where little girls like you lose their dad to a cause—a cause that men have fought for all their lives, so that little boys and girls may enjoy freedom of thought, religion and the right to live as you have been destined to live—as an American."

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher; March, 29.57 1/2; corn was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March 1.12 1/2, and oats were 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March 69 1/2. Basic Metals Are Conserved

Big Cut Due April 1 On Civilian Use

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government plans a cut of 25 to 40 per cent April 1 in the amount of basic metals going into automobiles, stoves and home appliances.

Officials of the National Production Authority (NPA) disclosed this today, saying it will be necessary to save steel, copper and aluminum for defense purposes.

The cut in actual number of cars and appliances produced may be somewhat smaller than the cut in allowed use of metals, these officials said.

It will depend on the manufacturers' ability to substitute and conserve, using such things as plastics, for instance, in place of metals.

The auto industry last month promised a cut in use of basic metals for the present quarter, but NPA experts said a hoped-for drop in automotive orders for steel apparently has not taken place.

Consequently, the mandatory action is contemplated, affecting steel, copper and aluminum. Some other metals, such as nickel and cobalt, already are subject to curtailment as severe, or worse. The order probably will appear in about two weeks, giving producers at least a month to get set.

Fire Drives 500 Out Of State's Lansing Offices

LANSING — (AP)—Fire originating in a blueprint room in the state office building today drove an estimated 500 state employees into the street.

The Lansing fire department sent all equipment from its central headquarters to the scene. The blaze started on the seventh mezzanine story.

Flames and smoke quickly spread through the building's ventilating system. The building is two blocks southwest of the capitol.

There were reports that archives stores in the mezzanine were damaged.

The eight-story building, first occupied in 1925, houses the major state offices, including the state department of administration, corrections, building, agriculture, labor, banking, highway, insurance, conservation, the historical commission, and the state library.

Would Save Nickel

LANSING—(AP)—Senator Harold M. Ryan (D-Trenton) filed in the Senate today a measure which would require all hotels, bus stations and railroad stations to maintain at least one free public toilet. He said the public should not have to always shell out a nickel.

Jury Cuts Dairy

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A Downey jury spurned the state's offer of $15,600 for 9/10 acre condemned for the Santa Ana freeway. The dairy held out for $24,000. A jury settled the issue. It gave the dairy $13,000.

Contest To Help Youth Promotes New Projects

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—America's club women now have a chance to prove to skeptical husbands that they do something at their get-togethers besides gossip and drink tea. They also have a chance at $25,000 worth of prizes to boot.

A grocery chain and the General Federation of Women's Clubs are jointly sponsoring a program and contest called "Build Freedom With Youth." The idea is to inspire the country's 15,000 federated women's clubs to swap canasta, bridge or romantic book reviews for some community project which will help children.

As far as the grocery chain—Kroger—is concerned, there are no strings attached. No rooftop of a Kroger store—or facsimile—need accompany the entry form. Clubs whose members are 100 per cent customers of the A & P will not be discriminated against in the judging. And there doesn't even have to be a Kroger store in the same town or state to qualify a local club. In fact, Kroger stores are only in the mid-west.

Youngsters actually have to be helped by the projects and be a working part of them when the contest is judged. As Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton, president of the GFWC puts it: "It's got to be carried out in blue jeans and at the home level."

The GFWC announcement suggests school lunch programs, traffic safety campaigns, welfare programs for needy kids, job opportunity canvasses, organizing Boy Scout troops or any one of a thousand similar ideas as eligible projects.

Any women's club in the U. S. or Alaska affiliated with the GFWC is eligible. The contest opens Feb. 1, 1951, and closes Feb. 15, 1952. Entries will be judged on a report of the project which must include pictures, newspaper clippings, letters of commendation and the names of the youths participating.

National prizes of $10,000, $3,000 and $2,000 will be awarded. Prizes of $200 will be given in each state which has at least five entries. Any queries about the contest, and requests for entry blanks, can be sent to the GFWC headquarters at 1734 N. Street, N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

Joe Hall, president of the Kroger company, is emphatic about the importance of giving the young people of each community a part in carrying out contest projects. "We feel," he says, "that by taking part in this work, youngsters will learn the value of self-help—the spirit of cooperative effort which is an important part of our democratic American system."

Although a similar contest called "Build a Better Community" was sponsored by Kroger in 1949, the special idea of this one was inspired by the recent Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth.

During that conference a recommendation was made "that progressive opportunities should be provided youth to participate vitally in community activities and planning in order that they may have the preparation and experience or leadership and community service."

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA—(AP)—Hard pressed Marines in Korea can still take time out to note a coincidence.

Corporal Malcolm R. Long, a Marine M. P. attached to the Seventh Marines, notes that he and a buddy, Arthur R. Long, were setting down for the night in a foxhole near the Chosin Reservoir when a third Marine suddenly jumped into the hole.

"Who are you," the two Longs asked the newcomer.

"The name is Ernest Long," was the reply.

Ex-Convict Composer Given Break On His Parole In Michigan

LANSING — (AP) — Michigan parole officials reported today they have straightened out the tangled affairs of Frank Grandstaff, the composer and ex-convict.

Indiana authorities have been authorized to supervise the year's parole. Grandstaff must serve from an old Michigan conviction, reported Gus Harrison, state supervisor of paroles.

Grandstaff was pardoned from a life sentence as a habitual criminal in Tennessee after a canteen he composed received national acclaim. He was released to return to his home in Decatur, Ind.

He still was wanted, however, for skipping parole in Michigan in 1931. He had been convicted here of receiving stolen property. Michigan authorities instructed him to report last Dec. 22 to Indiana parole authorities to continue on parole. "He did not do so, however, and Michigan issued a warrant for his arrest last week."

Meanwhile, he had married, made radio and television appearances and was arranging for the filming of his life in Hollywood.

Harrison said that Indiana authorities had been empowered to issue travel permits for Grandstaff "for legitimate business."

"I think we are giving this guy a break," Harrison said.

Third Censure Vote Brewing For Labor Regime In England

LONDON—(AP)—British Conservatives, seizing on the unpopularity of the nation's almost meatless larder, today sought a parliamentary censure vote on the Labor government's handling of the present critical meat shortage.

It was the third attack against Prime Minister Attlee's government in a week. Winston Churchill's Conservatives failed by 10 votes last night in an attempt to overthrow the cabinet on the issue of steel nationalization. Last week Labor withstood a Tory attack on the current coal shortage.

Conservative strategy apparently is based on a belief that if the government, holding office by on-

Armament Race Fight Impends

Russian Note Called Propaganda Blast

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — East-West negotiations over a big four foreign ministers meeting have reached the point where responsible diplomats believe the stage is being set for a first class fight over the rearmament race between the western nations and Russia.

This is likely to lead to a new Soviet demand for outlawing atomic weapons—in which the United States is assumed to have a commanding lead over Russia—and to western demands for reduction in the size of Communist armed forces.

A Russian note to the United States, Britain and France, made public Tuesday night and discussed by Secretary of State Acheson at a news conference yesterday, provides two pieces of evidence of the Kremlin's desire to focus attention on the buildup of power in the United States and Western Europe.

Acheson yesterday assailed the Russian note as being a propaganda blast, charging other people with what the Russians themselves are doing. He said it is the massive weight of Soviet and satellite military forces which creates tension in the world. Acheson made no reference to Russia's assumed buildup of atomic weapons although that is a major factor in official thinking about her total resources for war.

Acheson also asserted that the Communist satellite countries have built up considerable military forces, which in the case of Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria—formerly allied with Nazi Germany—exceed peace treaty limits.

Rich Texas Spinster Dies In Home Fire As Junk Blocks Door

AMARILLO, Tex.—(AP)—A wealthy spinster died last night when fire broke out in her home and she couldn't escape through a kitchen door jammed by papers and old fruit jars.

She was Miss Inez Sweeney, about 75. Assistant fire chief Dewey Morris shattered the door and carried her out. He said trash and old newspapers were stacked in the house from front door to back.

Neighbors said Miss Sweeney hadn't been seen outside in more than 15 years. She lived alone.

Miss Sweeney was burned on her arms and shoulders. But hospital attendants said death was due to asphyxiation and a heart attack.

G. A. McCullough, administrator of Miss Sweeney's estate, estimated it in excess of $75,000.

One relative was reported as a survivor: James Sweeney, a nephew, whose home was believed to be near Grand Rapids, Mich.

Neighbors and a grocery delivery boy said that for years Miss Sweeney had subsided on soups, milk and water. Papers dated as far back as 1922 piled ceiling high through the house.

According to legend, the last of Chief of the west of Texas was once inhabited entirely by women, men being permitted to land there only once a year and take away with them all boys who had reached the age of 13.

ly a slim majority, can be unseated and new elections held, the temper of the nation favors a conservative victory.

Attlee's Socialists, confident after victory on the steel nationalization ballot, predicted they would win on the meat issue.

However the national outcry over the fresh meat ration, now sharply cut to eight pence (nine cents) a week per person, is causing admitted concern at Labor party headquarters.

Operation Reduces Weight Of Allegan Widow 300 Pounds

BURNIPS, Mich. — (P)—Mrs. Gertrude Levandowski is recovering from an operation that reduced her weight by half.

Two weeks ago she weighed 600 pounds. Now she weighs 296 pounds and she hopes by dieting to get her weight down to a mere 200.

It took courage, but the 58-year-old Allegan county widow underwent the operation despite a fear the shock might prove too much for her badly strained heart.

For ten years she had been suffering from an abdominal tumor that caused a secretion of liquid and created excess weight. When she was younger her weight had been normal for her five feet eight inches height.

Six Yards In Dress

Her family physician, Dr. A. G. Goude, and Dr. M. S. Roberts, a Kalamazoo surgeon, explained the case of Mrs. Levandowski was unusual because the operation is seldom delayed so long or the patient does not live to reach a 600 pound weight and a nine-foot girth.

"I was just waiting to die until the doctors convinced me that they could operate on the tumor and let me live again," Mrs. Levandowski said. "But I decided I couldn't go on much longer, and if I didn't make it, perhaps doctors would learn something that might help others in my condition."

So two weeks ago she came to the Allegan county health center from her farm home near this western Michigan village. She wore a new dress made of six yards of material and no frills. Trying to get her approximate weight, hospital attendants put her on two scales with 300 pound limits. Both hit their capacity.

No Use To Cry

Before the operation she underwent a five day flow decompression process in which 18 gallons of fluid were drained from her body drop by drop. This was the toughest part of the treatment because of the danger of shock.

Describing the ordeal, Mrs. Levandowski said, "I always made fun out of this because there was no use to cry. When I had to turn over I would call 'timber' and the nurses would come and help me."

Two days after the operation she was out of bed for short periods. Leaving the hospital, she saw her toes for the first time in years.

She wore home the same six yard dress, but it didn't fit. "If I had been out in the wind it would have whipped me to death," she laughed.

Now she is looking forward to housekeeping and buying a new wardrobe.

Gloria Hescott, Robert J. Finck Wed At Nahma

NAHMA—St. Andrew's church, Nahma, was the setting Saturday, Feb. 3, for the wedding of Miss Gloria L. Hescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hescott, and Robert John Finck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Finck, 346 Blehmber avenue, Marquette. Rev. Charles Reinhart was the celebrant of the 9:30 nuptial high mass. Ronald Hescott, brother of the bride, and Richard Lathin, nephew of the bridegroom, served as altar boys. Lovely bouquets of pastel gladioli and ferns decorated the altar. The music was sung by St. Andrew's choir with Mrs. Reginald Hebert, organist. At the offertory Miss Corinne Bernier sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by Miss Peggy Phalen.

An apron outlined with lace was attached to the bustle of the full skirt which ended in a court train. Her three-quarter length veil of illusion was caught to a tiny satin cloche with seed pearl design, edged in nylon net. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white lilies. Her jewelry was a necklace and earrings of pink rhinestones, the bridegroom's gift. Her headpiece was of matching pink and she carried pink carnations. Wives Forgive Three Who Went On Spree With Roving Red-Head

DETROIT — (AP)—Three husbands who went west with a red-haired neighbor woman on a beer drinking spree have the forgiveness of their wives.

But it was definitely understood their roving days were over, and they were under court order to find jobs and support their wives and 13 children.

The trio pleaded guilty in Recorder's court yesterday to failure to support minor children.

Judge Paul E. Krause released them on $500 bond each to await sentence Feb. 20. They are Harold Berube, 37, father of six; John Davis, 24, father of four, and Dale C. Burley, Jr., father of three.

The wives listened with obvious enjoyment as the judge told them off. The judge called them "suckers" for allowing red-haired Mrs. Lorraine Brandon, 27, to talk them into leaving their families. "Wise up," the judge told them, "and go out and get jobs."

Did you ever hear of "quality control"?

At A&P this means that we set high quality standards for the food we sell... and then we stick to those standards through thick and thin.

You won't find us lowering our high quality standards because supplies happen to be scarce, or because we want to put on a "bargain" sale.

That is why you can shop at A&P, day in and day out, with complete confidence that if, for any reason, you are not satisfied with any purchase, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

We will be grateful for any suggestions you may have that will help us maintain our high quality standards. Please write:

Pro Deo Awards To Two Scouts

Ceremonies Sunday At First Lutheran

Two members of Boy Scout Troop 467 of the First Lutheran church will receive Pro Deo awards Sunday at morning services in the church and special plans are being made to mark the event.

The youths are Don Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olson and Dick Sundling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sundling.

All members of the scout troop will be entertained at breakfast Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the church parlors. Parents of the two youths receiving the awards also will be guests.

The breakfast is in charge of LeRoy Hamilton, scoutmaster, Oscar Ohman and John Vogt and George Carlson is serving as chef.

Mothers of boys honored will pin awards on their sons during the service which follows the breakfast.

The two youths are said to be the third and fourth boys in the Augustana Synod to earn the awards which are given to first class scouts who spend 150 hours in the service of church and community. Previous awards went to Ralph Marquette of Gladstone and LeRoy Johnson of Bark River.

Four other members of the troop are now working on similar awards, it is reported.

Christian Education Day To Be Observed

Christian Education Day will be observed in a special service at the local free Methodist church next Sunday at 11 o'clock, according to the Rev. Anna Carlson, pastor.

The purpose of Christian Education Sunday is to better acquaint the constituency of the church with the work being done by the commission on education. The commission directs four departments—the department of Sunday schools, the department of service training, the department of educational institutions and the Young People's Missionary society.

As a part of its work, the commission on education provides scholarships to students studying for the ministry and travel grants to students living remote distances from any Free Methodist college. Thousands of youth from around the world are enrolled in these colleges, and not only represent a high percentage of our own denominational youth, but many from other denominations. The alumni of these schools are filling top positions of responsibility, all the way from the national government through all walks of life and make a definite contribution to the work of world missions.

Briefly Told

Novena Service—Novena services are to be held in All Saints' Catholic church Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock.

KANGAROO WITH A KICK—Mamma kangaroo is plastic, 4 1/2 inches high, with baby kangaroo mounted securely in her pouch. Ease her forward a bit, a spring releases and baby kangaroo pops out and sails two feet through the air—to the delight of all the kiddies. At least that's the hope of the Chicago toy manufacturer who's showing the new gimmick.

Union Clarifies Stand In Veneer Plant Strike

To clarify its position in the current strike at the Northwestern Veneer and Plywood corporation, Adam Sinclair, financial secretary of the Buckeye local and a member of the bargaining committee, issued a statement yesterday on behalf of the union.

The union had requested 40 cents per hour increase in base wage, medical care, 30 days minimum wait for union membership and checkoff system, among other things.

In regard to the request for a forty per cent increase in base wage, the statement justifies it as follows:

"Our take home pay during the year 1948 averaged about $70 a week. The plant shut down practically all of the year 1949. During the year 1950 the company rate of pay which had been increased to $1.00 an hour. In spite of this the employees take home pay has been reduced from an average of $70 per week in 1948 to a $40 per week average in 1950. The cost of living during this same period has increased about 30 per cent. We know that by asking for an increase of 40 cents an hour we still won't be receiving as much take home pay as we did in 1948, nor a decent standard of living, but feel it is all we can get at this time."

The statement also indicated the employees would be stayed at work if any wage increase which might have been granted by the Wage Stabilization board would have been made retroactive.

"The union bargaining committee asked the United States Conciliator, in the presence of the company representatives, if the company could agree to put our wage demands before the Wage Stabilization board for their approval, retroactive to the termination date of our contract which was January 23, 1951. If the company would have agreed to do this at that time the employees would have stayed on the job."

Differences between the employees and management also are an issue, according to the statement. "The union and employees have had more troubles x x x from the management during the year 1950 than in all our dealings in the previous fifteen years with the company x x x."

Citrus Toxins Are Studied By Chemists
BERKELEY — (P)—Chemists at the University of California report the theory that an organic toxic material in soils cropped to citrus plants may have a detrimental effect on citrus seedlings.

The study has been prompted by the results of tests with soil fumigation against fungi known to be associated with decaying citrus feeder roots. The treatment increased the growth of citrus seedlings 25 to 100 per cent.

GI HOLIDAY

OFF. Guard checks Pvt. Caulder's leave pass at Darmstadt.

AT VISITORS BUREAU in Garmisch, Pvt. Caulder inquired about sightseeing trips.

DE LUXE. Pvt. Caulder and Fraulein Annelie Weidenschlaeger have coffee at the "Kreuzeck"

For just 80 cents a day American GI's in Europe can frolic through their furloughs in Garmisch, the winter wonderland of Germany where the 1936 Winter Olympic games were held. The army calls it the most perfect GI rest and recreation center anywhere in the world, and the GI's agree. Soldiers who didn't know a ski from a totem pole before reaching Germany become fairly good skiers at this world famous winter sports resort. And if skiing holds no appeal, there's ice skating, ice hockey, bob sledding, horse sledding and horseback riding. Ten of the largest and best hotels are operated by the army. A GI pays 50 cents a day for his room. He pays nothing but a service charge of ten cents for his meals.

Pictured here on a holiday at Garmisch is Pvt. Thomas E. Caulder of Middletown, R.I., a member of the First Engineers Battalion at Darmstadt, Germany. A year in the army, this was his first furlough.

"CEASE FIRE." The couple have agreed to end their snowball fight.

ALONE. Caulder has now become a better skier.

RIDING HIGH. Caulder prefers horseback riding to whizzing down the mountain on skis.

Seven Injured, One Seriously, In Crash Yesterday Afternoon

Seven persons were injured, one seriously, in a head-on collision in a blinding snowstorm at 412 p. m. yesterday on M-28, 10 miles west of Seney.

Seriously hurt was Mrs. Roy Wicklund, 24, of Grand Marais, who suffered a fractured pelvis, a broken back, internal injuries, severe abrasions and bruises, and shock.

Others injured are: Roy Wicklund, 32, of Grand Marais, broken ribs and shock. William Torovich, 38, of Escanaba, broken ribs, a cut finger and shock.

Francis Peterson, 32, of Grand Marais, cut forehead.

William Traeger, 35, of Grand Marais, broken ribs.

Daniel Walenta, 19, of Alma, possible fracture of right wrist.

Taken to Hospital

Walenta and Goodman, occupants of one of the cars, were taken to the Munising hospital for treatment and the others were brought to the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital in Manistique.

The Tornovich car was towed to Manistique.

Reports on 11 county herds completing yearly records during the testing year—Nov. 1, 1949, to Oct. 30, 1950—were read by Francis Davidson, association supervisor. The reports were prepared by Tony Mauhar, former tester.

Winkel Herd Report
In addition to the 11 reports, Davidson also submitted records covering the Otto Winkel herd which completed its testing year in December instead of on Oct. 30. Six of the 11 herds averaged

ELK IS FAMILY PET
FRANKLIN, Man. —(P)—The Walter MacDonald family here has adopted a young elk into the family. The animal gets along with everybody—even a big Labrador dog on the property. A local game warden decided that to return the elk to a national park would mean certain death at the hands of hunters, and has asked the MacDonalds to hold the animal until the hunting season closes.

Judges And Starters Named For Ice Races

Marinette, Gladstone, Norway, Iron Mountain and Escanaba are expected to be represented at the annual Upper Peninsula-Northern Wisconsin open speed skating championships at Royce park Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

A fast field is assured and there seems little doubt that the ice will be in shape.

Meet Manager Art Peterson has named Gene Hebert and Cliff Frasher as starters. Judges will be Paul Vardigan, John Hebert, Francis Lueneburg and Jerome

Deloria. The city recreation department, sponsor of the meet, will award trophies in some events and medals to winners in all events. There will be races for both boys and girls in the midjet class (10-11 years), juvenile (12-13), juniors (14-15), intermediates (16-17) and seniors (18 and over). JOE DI MAGGIO

NEW YORK — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, the million dollar center fielder of the New York Yankees, and George Kell, brilliant third baseman of the Detroit Tigers, have signed their 1951 contracts but many baseball stars remain out of the fold.

DiMaggio accepted his third straight $100,000 contract by telephone from his San Francisco

Football Coaching Not Bad, Either

MUSKOGEE, Okla. — (AP) — Coach Bud Wilkinson of the University of Oklahoma's 1950 championship football team is driving a new $1,000 auto today, the gift of grid fans over the state.

The red and gray auto was presented to Wilkinson here last night at the annual banquet of the Muskogee Quarterback club. Money for the car was raised by $1 contributions from Oklahoma followers.

home yesterday. Kell, after turning down two proposals, came in to the fold at Detroit for an estimated $40,000, a $7,000 hike over his 1950 salary. Kell is the highest paid Tiger player.

The capitulation of DiMaggio leaves only Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals among the upper bracket players unsigned. Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh is working on the last half of a two-year contract calling for $85,000 per season. Williams is expected to sign at the same terms he worked under last year, a reported $125,000. Musial supposedly is angling for $100,000.

Other stars in the gilt-edge brackets who have not signed include Johnny Sain of Boston, Preacher Roe of Brooklyn, Andy Paikoff of Chicago, Latty Jansen of New York, Del Ennis of Philadelphia, Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh and Howie Pollet of St. Louis in the National.

In the American league such stars as Dom DiMaggio of Boston, Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Hal Newhouse of Detroit, Yogi Berra of New York, Ferris Fain of Philadelphia, Ned Garver of St. Louis and Eddie Yost of Washington have not signed.

Chandler Ouster Meeting Called

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The "pros" and the "antis" will go to the mat again March 12 on the issue of whether A. B. Chandler is to continue as baseball's commissioner or be replaced by some other person. A terse announcement from the commissioner's office said that Chandler had called a joint major league meeting at the request of Will Harridge and Ford Frick, presidents of the American and National leagues respectively.

The meeting will be held in Miami, Beach, Fla., and the announcement given out by Walter Mulberry, secretary of baseball, said its purpose was "to name a commissioner of baseball and act on any other business that might come before it."

Chandler, who was in New York, declined to amplify the announcement but there was a little more information from other sources.

Harridge explained that he and Frick asked that the meeting be called at the request of a four-man committee which has been considering persons for the $65,000-a-year commissioner's job.

Ellis Ryan of the Cleveland Indians, a member of that committee, said the group would not recommend the election of any one man but would submit a list of those it felt qualified for consideration.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Hearken to the plaints of Pops Crnkovich of the Houghton Mining Gazette anent the Marquette Sentinel stinkeroo at Calumet last week. Writes Pops:

"The Marquette Sentinels hockey club certainly left a bad taste Saturday night in the Calumet Armory. It's not that hockey fans in the Copper Country don't like to see their teams win games by substantial scores, because what really matters is the breaks of the game. The team that represented Marquette in the Calumet Armory Saturday night was anything but that. It seemed to be one of the most disorganized clubs seen on the local ice surface in over a decade.

"Fans remark 'We thought Marquette would be strengthened by Jim Eady and 'Boots' Kukuk,' etc. Why, for instance, wasn't Goalie Fred Hansen here? We can readily see why Eady, with a railroad job, can't sacrifice his work to play hockey, but when Calumet-Laurium-Keweenaw hockey fans saw the big 'hero', 'Boots' Kukuk sitting behind the Marquette bench watching the game when the Sentinels could have used him, it was a hard pill to swallow. Sure, when the C-L-K's go to Marquette Thursday night, sports writers on the Mining Journal will herald the coming of popular 'Puppy' Griesnick, Johnny Whittaker, and Rubie Parske. That will help the gate receipts in the Palestra, the same as Tony Bukovich does. The Sentinels management, however, isn't interested apparently in sending the same team on the road that plays at home.

"This can also be said about last Saturday night's game. The officiating of Fred Brunelle of Marquette, and Joe Sossi of Calumet, was good. C-L-K fans didn't bemoan the fact that Brunelle waved local players off in the second period two at a time on two occasions. Even then the Sentinels failed to capitalize because they just didn't have it. As a matter of fact the local sextet scored twice with only three men on the ice. Certainly hockey supporters in Marquette aren't getting a fair shake from the team management when a mediocre team goes on the road."

Louis Pleased; Wins In 10 Rounds

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Joe Louis, obviously pleased with his 10-round decision over Cuban heavyweight Omelio Agramonte, leaves for San Francisco today to fight Andy Walker in what he hopes is the last stepping stone to a title fight.

The 36-year-old Brown Bomber, lacking the punch that earned him the world's championship more than a decade ago, failed to stop the elusive Cuban with a knockout blow last night, but finished 10 active three-minute rounds in good physical condition. Louis weighed 209; Agramonte 187.

Fresh At End
His disappointment at not kayoing the Cuban was offset by the fact he was able to turn on full steam in the final round and still feel fresh.

Agramonte, figured to hit the canvas in four rounds or less, gave the former champion a surprisingly good fight and managed to hang on as Louis pounded him in the fourth and ten rounds in knockout attempts.

For the first three rounds it was a fairly even match. But in the fourth Louis came out for the kill. He hit the dancing Cuban with rights and lefts and in mid-round the Cuban staggered under a left to the head. When it appeared Louis had his victim, the bell ended the round and Agramonte came out in the fifth to strike back hard.

The sixth and seventh rounds were a tussle. Louis tried again for the knockout in the eighth. Then Agramonte took up retreating tactics, running from Louis and when cornered, throwing his arms about the Bomber until separated by the referee.

Ready For Champ
Louis fully intended to kayo the Cuban in the tenth but was hamstrung by Agramonte's clinch methods.

In the dressing room Louis observed: "It's almost impossible to knock out a man when he's hanging on to you."

Louis insisted he was "just about ready" to meet champion Ezzard Charles in a title match.

"I'm in better shape than when I met Charles last. I didn't intend to go 10 rounds, but I'm glad I did. It proved that I'm in pretty good shape."

Louis meets Andy Walker Feb. 23. If all goes well in San Francisco, it is his plan to challenge Charles.

Last night's fight drew 13,440 paid customers in Miami stadium.

Wings Wallop Blackhawks, 11-3

DETROIT — (AP) — The league leading Detroit Red Wings were back on the road today after a fancy build-up at home in last night's 11-3 victory over Chicago.

Tonight the hapless Black Hawks and the powerful Wings clash in Chicago in the opener of a four-game road trip for Detroit.

Detroit humiliated the Black Hawks at Olympia in the "farewell game" at home. The 11 scores were the highest in the league this season. So was the game total of 14.

Gordie Howe, the league's individual scoring leader, picked up his 26th and 27th goals of the season. Rookie Glen Skov, Gay Stewart and Red Kelly each got a pair, too.

The victory preserved the Wings' three-point lead over the Toronto Maple Leafs, who beat Montreal 3-1. Detroit plays at Toronto Saturday night.

The fifth-place New York Rangers and the fourth-place Bruins, two teams with the most tie games to their credit this season, wound up in a 2-2 deadlock.

Unusual was the fact that Maurice (Rocket) Richard failed last night to score a goal. Toronto's Sid Smith was given the job of shadowing the league-leading goal-scorer and did an effective job. What's more he got two of Toronto's three goals.

Six Gladstone Fighters Enter Golden Gloves

Eskymos Travel To Menominee

Victors in four of their last six games, the rejuvenated Escanaba high school cagers will seek their third victory in a row Friday night when they travel to Menominee.

The Eskymos were bolstered considerably by their victory over Gladstone, a team which had defeated them earlier in the season. They continued to show improvement in the Gladstone game and Coach Steve Baltic feels that the boys finally have begun to hit their stride.

Against Gladstone, their offense worked smoothly, especially in the first half, and their defense did an excellent job of bottling up Capt. Phil Creten, Gladstone's lanky center. It was a team victory with all five regulars working like clockwork.

Tough On Home Floor
While the Eskymos took the measure of Menominee, 46-39, on the local floor last month, Coach Baltic points out that it wasn't an easy setup. Menominee has been tough on its own floor this year, beating Kingsford, Stephenson, Clintonville and Oconto on its home court.

An added incentive for the Eskymos to beat Menominee is the chance of being seeded in the top or bottom brackets of the district tournament here in March if they win all the rest of their games. After Menominee, the Eskymos travel to Manistique and wind up their season here Feb. 23 against Kingsford, a team which hasn't done much this season—although it did beat Menominee, 49-42, at Kingsford Saturday night.

Hermansville 5 Whips Powers

HERMANVILLE — Two Hermansville veterans, Melvin Poquette and Edward Lohf, were the big guns here last night as Hermansville won a hard-fought victory over Powers here last night. The score was 58-52.

Poquette netted 19 points to 18 for Lohf, who was ejected from the game on fouls. Hermansville led all the way but never had the "game in the bag" until the final whistle.

Ernest Della Costa hit for 17 and John Henderson scored 15 to lead Powers, which played without its high scorer, Dave Lawrence.

Hermansville made a clean sweep of three games, the reverse series winning, 23-25, and the grades winning, 26-23.

Watch Deductions On Your Income Tax

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — This is a reminder to watch your deductions in filing your 1950 income tax return.

Be sure to claim all you can, rightfully, since the deductions are subtracted from your income before what's left can be taxed.

You have no problem if your income was under $5,000 and your deductions were not more than 10 per cent of your income.

You'll use form 1040-A or the 1040 short form. You don't have to figure your tax on those forms.

Table Computes Levy
A tax table, used with both, gives the tax on all income under $5,000. And a deduction of about 10 per cent already is allowed for in that tax.

So, in using those two forms, you don't have to claim or list your deductions. You get, automatically, a deduction of about 10 per cent on income up to $5,000.

But suppose, although your income was under $5,000, your deductions actually amounted to more than 10 per cent. Don't use form 1040-A or the 1040 short form. You'll lose money.

Instead, use the 1040 long form. There you'll have to figure your own tax and itemize all your deductions but you can claim your deductions in full. Any under-$5,000 person using the long form must itemize his deductions.

The picture is a little different for people with income of $5,000 or more. They have to use the long form anyway. They can't use form 1040-A or the 1040 short form.

And the rules for $5,000-or-more people using the long form are a little different from those for people with under-$5,000 income using that 1040 long form.

Knock Off 10 Percent
This is the score for people with $5,000 or more income using the long form:

A single person automatically gets—without itemizing—a deduction of 10 per cent of his income up to a limit of $1,000 in deductions. He just takes that 10 per cent, knocking that much off his income before applying the tax to what's left. Example: Jones, single, had $5,500 income. His automatic deduction: $550.

Smith, single had $10,000. Automatic deduction: $1,000. As noted, no one gets more than $1,000 as a standard deduction. That's maximum.

Example: Brown, single, had $30,000. Automatic deduction: $1,000. If Brown's deductions actually ran to more than $1,000, he could claim them but he'd have to itemize.

Limit For Couples
The same goes for Jones and Smith. If Jones wanted to claim more than the standard $550 allowed him on his $5,500 income or Smith wanted to claim more than the standard $1,000 allowed him on his $10,000 income, he'd have to itemize.

Now take married people—If a married couple's income was $5,000 or more and they file a joint return—even though the wife had no income—they get a standard deduction of 10 per cent up to $1,000—just like the single man—without itemizing.

But if one of them files separately, or both do, there's a limit of $500 on the standard deduction for them.

Examples: Jones had $7,000 income, his wife none. Filing jointly, they get a standard 10 per cent deduction of $700, without itemizing, whether or not their deductions actually amounted to $700. Or—Smith had $20,000 income, his wife none. Filing jointly, they get a maximum standard deduction of $1,000 whether or not their deductions were that much.

But if the actual deductions of the Joneses or Smiths ran to more than the standard deduction allowed them, they could claim them in full. But then they'd have to itemize them.

Maximum Changes
But suppose this same Jones, with the $7,000 income and the wife who had none, files separately. In that case his standard deduction is only $500. If his deductions were really more than $500, he could claim them but he'd have to itemize.

That's the rule on married people: When a married person files separately, and his income was $5,000 or more, the maximum standard deduction he can get is $500, no matter how high his income.

When married couples file jointly, they get a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their income up to a maximum deduction of $1,000.
